

Cascade Clamps

Cascade Clamps - Founded in Portland, Oregon in 1943, the Cascade Manufacturing Company began as a small machine shop hiring just 4 people. Overall sales for that particular year amounted to about 60 thousand dollars. The very first recorded sales revenues involved the assembly and machining of stainless steel pipe fittings, valves and other components. During five years of operation, the business had expanded to forty workers and their yearly sales volume had risen to three hundred thirty thousand dollars. Now, Cascade is amongst the leading worldwide manufacturers in the material handling industry.

Production and design of the company's original hydraulic cylinder paved the way in Cascade's aggressive quest of better business possibilities. Over the last sixty years, the material handling trade has developed into a very complex area and Cascade has proudly played a part in this progress. Cascade at present continues to develop as the leader supplier of lift truck attachments and numerous associated items. The company feels certain in their capability so as to continue to lead the way in the business by understanding customer's requirements in the future and remaining aggressive in the global market.

In the nineteen fifties, Cascade began designing, making and selling hydraulic attachments. Manufacturing was done in the year 1956 on a brand new facility to be able to house all the plant and office operations in Portland, Oregon at the company's current center of operations. After 15 years of business, total staff reached one hundred eighty employees and sales had reached practically $2,300,000.

A second manufacturing plant was built in the year 1959 in Springfield, Ohio. The year 1960 marked Cascade's initial transfer into the international world of the material handling industry while the business recognized interest in Australia, the Netherlands and England.

The business changed its name to Cascade Corporation in 1964. In the year 1965, Cascade went public with a preliminary offering of two hundred thousand shares of common stock. The company has expanded its manufacturing facilities within the United States with places in Portland, Oregon, Springfield, Ohio, and Warner Robins, Georgia. Cascade merchandise are fabricated worldwide because of numerous subsidiary operations. In the year 1944, a brand new plant was accomplished in Almere, the Netherlands which is Cascade's European command center. This facility is built to be the ultimate customer support centre.

Continuing to develop, Cascade expanded their product offering further in the year 1996 and the year 1997 with the remarkable acquisition of 5 corporations, including the international leader in forks, the Kenhar Corporation.
